Faculty directors review each student's application before accepting students into the course. Your essay may determine whether you are accepted into this program. Please address each of the following topics in your essay (2 pages maximum):

1. Why are you applying for this particular course? Talk about what you hope to learn. Your desire to travel to the destination(s) of the course should not be part of your response.
2. Condensing a four-credit semester course into one month off-campus creates a very intense academic experience. What strategies will you use to deal with the intensity?
3. Describe your ideal cross-cultural experience either abroad or in the United States.
4. Part of group travel involves dealing with the unexpected. Give an example of how you have coped with an unexpected situation in the past.
